the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age has increased from 1.1 billion to 1.5 billion, and the number of people aged 65 and over has increased from 0.5 billion to 0.7 billion (United Nations 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of the young and the old in the context of the ageing of the population. The United Nations (1999) has identified the need to address the needs of the young and the old as a key challenge for the 21st century. The World Bank (1999) has identified the need to address the needs of the young and the old as a key challenge for the 21st century. We grow in size and stature . . .

September 6, 1960

Summer was gone and with a sigh

We returned to school.

We entered through new doors

Into halls smelling of wax, paint,

Varnish and cleaning solution.

Bright hallways, new colors on the walls,

Shiny new lockers in neat rows—

These were a few of the wonders

That awaited us beyond the yellow doors.

The days flew past.

Eagerly, we watched the steel skeleton

That was to be the gymnasium

Grow and take form

To the accompaniment of thumps, crashes, bangs,

The crackle of welding torches and chatter of air hammers,

New science labs were created

And into the spring we continued to grow.

Suddenly it was June again.

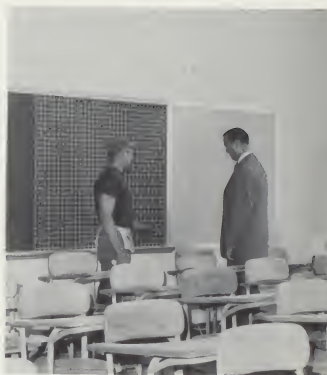

The last book was closed,

And the last locker door shut.

We paused and reflected on the departed year

And marveled at the size and stature to which we had grown.

These three industrious cooks are trying out one of the new stoves.

Mrs. Lambright and her class are looking at patterns.

Practice makes perfect

If while walking down first-floor hall, you happen to smell something burning, don't be too alarmed. It may only be one of the home economics girls burning a pan of biscuits.

Planning menus, preparing and serving meals, shopping and budgeting household money are a few of the things which home economics students learn. Courses offered include Clothing I and II, Foods I and II, and Home Economics III and IV.

Virginia Spry seems to find the biscuits she is making rather funny.

Betty Morse, Nancy Bickel, and Glenda Zentz are preparing dinner.

Mr. Sovine's class is deep in a discussion on the issues of the fall presidential campaign.

We study history and humanity

If you want to learn all about the fall of Rome, how to play the stock market, or what the current foreign policy is, there is a social studies class you will be interested in. This department not only deals with government and history, but also with finance and humanity.

Among the courses offered at GHS are civics, citizenship, world history, United States history, economics, psychology, and sociology. These courses are designed to give one the knowledge of social sciences needed for living in a modern world.

While Gary Pletcher reads, Carla Earnhart locates the country being studied on the map in Mr. Clason's world history class.

Terry Emmons, John Arnold, Sylvia Burbank, and Pat Higgins illustrate an unhappy home during a psychodrama in sociology class.

Mr. Blosser is trying hard to explain the principles of a slide rule to a very puzzled J. Kile.

We learn to compete with computers

Concentrating hard, Tom Rankin works on a construction in plane geometry.

" $a^2 + b^2 = c^2$ " Can you prove this statement? Math students sometimes find themselves adrift in a sea of ratios, right angles, radicals, and regular polygons. Our mathematics department seeks to guide young Einsteins on to higher levels by offering such courses as algebra, geometry, and trigonometry. For those who are content to budget their money and pay their taxes, such courses as general math and arithmetic are available.

Janet Duncan explains her solution to one of Mr. Matthews' algebra problems.

'Now, we'll begin with deep knee bends.'

This often-heard statement starts physical education students doing their calisthenics and warm-ups for class. With the opening of the new pool, swimming was added to the list of activities in which students participated. Included in this list are basketball, softball, touch football, relays, line soccer, volleyball, and gymnastics.

Health, a one-semester course, is also a part of this department. Both health and physical education are graduation requirements. The purpose of this department is to teach us how to keep our bodies physically fit.

Through games, we

What a way to start the day! These boys do push-ups to warm up for class.

Batter up! These girls are playing softball in second-period physical education class.

keep our bodies fit

Knee bends are just another part of class for these girls.

Terry Clapacs borrows Nancy Deisch's dictionary to check the spelling of a word in his senior English theme.

We work hard on our English

Ralph Weber watches Miss Kyler closely as she checks his assignment.

Do you find yourself unable to communicate with other people? If you do, then you should enroll in one of the Goshen High School English courses.

A major in English is required for graduation. Courses offered cover a wide range of English usage in reading, writing, and speaking. As well as English I through VIII, courses in literature, journalism, speech, and dramatics are offered.

Jack Ogle calls his speech class to order.

Through language we learn the culture of other lands

Priest Don Edwards "marries" Ann Cushing and Steve Messick during a Roman wedding in Latin II.

Julia Cundiff puts a language record on the phonograph.

"Bonjour, Mr. Fancil." "Heus, Miss Shaffer." "Buenas Dias, Miss Calkins." These words can be heard in three of our classrooms each day. At Goshen High School, students may choose from French, Latin, or Spanish to fulfill their language requirements. The cultures of the people who speak these tongues are studied, as students learn to read, write, and speak another language. Most students take only a two-year course, but third-year and fourth-year classes are now being offered.

Frank Hawks and Mr. Fancil examine the posters on the board in French I.

June Stealy explains her solution to a problem for her physics class.

Mr. Smith explains a test question to a biology student.

Have you ever wondered what's inside a frog or why gunpowder explodes? These are only a few of the questions answered in science classes at GHS.

In the new science laboratories, students perform experiments ranging from glass-blowing to animal dissection. Class discussions cover such things as acids, hydrocarbons, nuclear energy, electronics, sound, plants, animals, and astronomy, to name a few.

Courses offered include biology, applied science, chemistry, and physics.

Future scientists train in new laboratories

Watch the little ball! Judy Smith, Dean Kauffman, Steve Druley, and Phil Van Dorsten conduct an experiment in the physics lab.

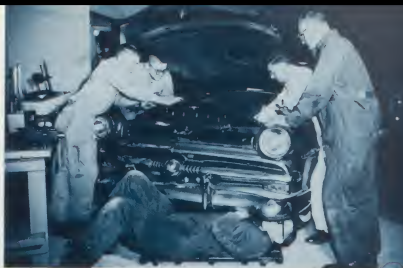

Vern Leatherman, Charles Cotton, and Karen Roose unpack equipment for the new science laboratories.

Mr. Peterson's boys are hard at work on their drawing boards.

Randy Kauffman, Tom Woodiel, Ron Shue, Dick Mayberry, and Dave Williams are trying to find what is wrong with this car.

Young Engineers, Architects, and Mechanics in the making

Mr. Wartsler's class is working in the new machine shop.

Mr. Roger's class reviews for a coming test.

If you find yourself fascinated by machine shops, you will enjoy the courses offered by the Industrial and Vocational Department. Here tomorrow's engineers, architects, and mechanics learn to work on cars, drill presses, and drawing boards. Students may take machine shop, auto mechanics, and architectural drawing.

These people set our policies

Mr. Lee L. Eve watches as Frank Ridenoure and Don Stoutenoure break the ground for the new gymnasium.

Mr. Lee L. Eve carries heavy responsibilities as our superintendent of schools.

Wrestling with the school city's tax rate levy, approving bids for equipment in the new gymnasium and high school, and hiring teachers are but a few of the many duties of Goshen's Board of Education.

This group of people selected by the City Council sets the policy as to curricula and other matters directly related to the education of Goshen's youth.

Goshen's Board of Education: Mrs. Carl M. Hostetler seated with superintendent of schools Lee L. Eve. Standing are James Rodibaugh, G. A. Haberstick, C. J. Winter, and Paul W. Kauffman.

We said good-bye to our former

Mr. Starr is trying out one of the new camera accessories given to him by the faculty.

Mr. and Mrs. Starr are surrounded by the friends and relatives who came to appear on the "This Is Your Life" program.

Thomas J. Starr, who was head of GHS for the past 10 years, submitted his resignation March 10, 1960. He accepted the position of superintendent of the Corydon school system and began his duties there April 18, 1960.

Mr. and Mrs. Starr were guests of honor on March 25 at a buffet supper given by the GHS faculty. Mr. Starr was presented with camera accessories as a farewell gift.

Mr. Richard G. Bigler is shown as he narrated the surprise assembly program.

Mr. Bigler is escorting Mr. Starr to the stage for the surprise assembly program in his honor.

On Friday, April 8, a surprise program "This Is Your Life—Thomas J. Starr" was given with Richard G. Bigler as master of ceremonies. The program was arranged by the Student Council with Ethel Grogg in charge. Friends and relatives appeared on the program; letters were received from people who were not able to attend, and Mr. Starr's daughter, Sylvia, sent a tape-recorded greeting from California.

At the close of the assembly, Mr. Starr was given a desk set as a gift from the student body.

Oh, to Be a Senior!!

For the last time, we entered the halls of GHS in the fall of 1960. The classrooms had changed but familiar faces were all about us. We quickly fell into the routine of classes and our days rushed by filled with discussions, quizzes, reports, lab experiments, class meetings, and club activities. Our all-too-short week-ends found us at football games, on dates, at dances, or at the drive-in's. Before we knew it, football gave way to basketball, ice-skating, and the first snow of the winter. Then it was Christmas and research papers were due. Suddenly, we discovered it was the middle of January, and lights burned late as we studied for semester exams.

As the second semester began, we looked forward eagerly to the opening of the new gymnasium and the Elkhart game. Our victory that night over our arch rival is one we shall never forget. The end of February brought the Sectional Tourney, and studies were temporarily abandoned, as we succumbed to "Hoosier hysteria."

Spring brought the class play, baseball games, the Goshen Relays, the senior trip to New York, the prom, and our second-semester finals. Our last year of high school was nearly over, and we wondered where it had gone. We had little time to reflect on this, however. Class Day, Senior Assembly, and Baccalaureate were upon us. Finally, on Commencement evening, our diplomas clutched in our hands, and the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" still ringing in our ears, we, the class of 1961, took our place among the alumni of Goshen High School.

Mrs. Virginia Lambright, Mr. Neal Shortz, Mr. John H. Allyn, and Mr. James Unclebach have served as our class sponsors. Mr. James Nelson, on leave second semester, has also helped us steer our course for the past four years.

In Memoriam

Carolyn June had friendliness to give,
A priceless gift for all she met.
Loyalty and enthusiasm filled her days;
Her friendship remains a lasting debt.

Her spirit radiated colors of life,
Her patterned character almost set
Life in her was the will to live,
But to us her life was only lent.

'SKINS WIN

As Elkhart finally went down to defeat.
Our senior year
was made complete.

Juniors

Clockwise, Jon Holdread, Vice-President; John Chandler, President; Edith Holderman, Treasurer; Kirby Whitehead, Sue Bolin, Sergeants-at-Arms; Pat Melis, Secretary.

Finally, the time came for us to begin our junior year, and we were looking forward to making the best of it. In order to have a good senior year, we, as juniors had to settle down to the hard task of earning money. To help us with this task we had the guidance of our sponsors, Miss Felter, Mrs. Flatter, Mr. Bontrager, and a new sponsor, Mr. Yoder.

Our varied activities included concessions, dances, and paper drives. Our first big event was our class play, "Twenty-five Words or Death," which was a success. We then started to plan for our biggest event of the year — the Junior Prom.

Betty Inebnit, a GHS junior, is spending her junior year in Hoiersdorf Uber Schoningen, West Germany. She lives with Dr. and Mrs. Arno Rathmel and their daughter, Gisela. Betty is sponsored by the Plymouth United Church of Christ and is an exchange student in the International Christian Youth Exchange program.

Taking Betty's place at GHS is Dagmar Salbach, a GHS senior.

Goshen's first exchange student is Betty Inebnit.

Betty and some of her friends—Rosie Stimmwitz, and Nora Caspar of West Germany.

CLASS SPONSORS

MR. SHOEMAKER

MR. RICHARDS

Our class of 1963 came back to school full of curiosity about the remodeling and renovation which had taken place during the summer. What we found was a pleasant surprise to everyone and an incentive to start work again. Mr. Richards and Mr. Brinker were assigned as our new class sponsors to work with Miss Grogg and Mr. Shoemaker. We chose Dr. and Mrs. Westfall and Mr. and Mrs. Blosser as our class parents. Pat O'Dea was elected to lead as president; Marilyn Marquis, secretary; Randy Saal, treasurer; and

Fred Hostetler and Linda Webb as sergeants-at-arms.

The treasury grew slowly from the concession stand sales the rainy night of the Fort Wayne North Side-Goshen game. The next project was the Sweetheart Dance. In the spring the class and our sponsors worked long and hard on the Variety Show which was a success. Time passed quickly and our second year at Goshen High will be remembered as a happy and profitable one.

MISS KYLER

MR. KASTNER

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS clockwise are: Evelyn Leichty, sergeant-at-arms; Nancy Aust, secretary; Judy Rock, treasurer; Keith Kilmer, sergeant-at-arms; Rodney Mack, vice-president; and Kurt Schelle, president.

We, the Class of '64, entered GHS in early September of 1960. Shortly after entering, we elected class officers. They were Kurt Schelle, president; Rodney Mack, vice-president; Nancy Aust, secretary; Judy Rock, treasurer; Evelyn Leichty and Keith Kilmer, sergeants-at-arms.

We also chose Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aust, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Bewyer, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Gantz as our class parents.

Our first money-making project was selling concessions at the John Adams football game.

Our first year at GHS was largely a confusing one but through the efforts of our class sponsors, Miss Kyler, Mr. Peterson, Mr. Kastner, and our class parents, we survived. We are looking forward to our next year at GHS.

Opening Night in

hart bug. Phil, featured in a clever Indian costume, vate our ripping Redskins to many victories.

Our New Gym

A thrilling moment in the Elkhart game is reflected on the faces of these fans at the opening night of Goshen's new gym—the night we played Elkhart and WON!

Record-breaking Jay Miller breaks through the "Redskins Squash-em B-Bug" banner. What a thrilling entrance to a game that smashed the Elkhart Blue Blazers' winning streak!

The scores and enthusiasm ran high as senior Dick Claybaugh gained possession of the ball during the Goshen - Elkhart clash.

Rainy Relays

People can always smile for a photographer (rain or shine).

Dave Guipe is the lone Goshen boy among these Elkhart gals. He had an excuse; it was raining.

The sun shone long enough for Honorary Referee Robert Blough to crown Cynthia Werner queen of the 1960 Relays. Marilyn Marquis, freshman, Cinda Schrock, sophomore, and Judy Rock, junior, were members of her court.

As in past years, the rains fell but the Relays continued. Wet weather could not chase loyal track fans away. This was the 18th annual Goshen Relays.

"COURT OF THE 1960 RELAYS" Marilyn Marquis, Cinda Schrock, and Judy Rock comprised Cynthia Werner's court.

Homecoming Queen of 1960

On October 7, 1960, Christine Wolff was crowned Homecoming Queen during the half-time ceremonies of the Goshen-Michigan City football game. For the past several years the Tomahawk Staff has sponsored this event. The queen and her court are chosen by the student body.

Mr. Fields, our principal, crowns Christine Wolff Homecoming Queen of 1960.

Faculty and their families were glad, too, for the Christmas holidays which gave them a brief respite from school duties. Mr. Elmer Bowers, head of Goshen High's science department, is shown here with his family on Christmas morning.

White Christmas

This year the students of GHS enjoyed a White Christmas complete with six inches of snow and 20 degree temperatures.

Silver and white became the popular colors in Christmas trees, but in keeping with tradition, the tree at the second-floor middle landing was green.

With school still in session an auditorium program, the "Messiah," was presented in full by the high school orchestra and choir. Carols were also sung around the Christmas tree with Gene Haberstich accompanying on the accordion.

Not forgetting the shut-ins of this holiday season, many church groups organized caroling parties and serenaded the shut-ins.

While Christmas Eve brought Santa Claus and the opening of gifts to some, to others it meant a time of reverence and church. The midnight services opened their doors and students in attendance celebrated Christmas in the finest way.

Accompanied by Gene Haberstick on the accordion, students gather at noon on the last day of school before vacation to sing carols.

at GHS

"O Holy night . . ." The true meaning of Christmas is not forgotten as carolers Marlene Swinehart, Dan Cregier, and Karen Johnson bring joy and happiness to shut-ins.

Be My Valentine

The retailing class was responsible for decorating the newly constructed window display case at the front of the attendance office. This was the display during the Valentine season.

Singing Valentines, sponsored by Mediacorp, is an annual affair at GHS. This year's group was composed of seniors: Marlene Swinehart, Karen Roose, Diane Sullivan, Rhonda Fields, June Stealy, Sally Brookmyer, Dan Cregier, Steve Druly, Dave Plank, and Bud Hursh.

More Pictures of That Eventful Night

WHOOPIING IT UP These Goshen students stormed onto the floor seconds after the final gun sounded, giving Goshen a 55-53 victory. The win over Elkhart was the first these students ever celebrated, and let's hope it won't be the last.

WHAT HAPPENED, MAX? It is apparent from this picture of Max Bell that things are not going his way. On the other hand, Colley Webb (51) doesn't seem to be too disturbed about the action on the court.

BORROWED Mr. "B" (for bug?) was "borrowed" by these Goshen students from the custodian of North Side Gym, but was returned to Elkhart's student body before the big game. Our Goshen heroes are Linda Milbourn, Jeanette Bean, Beth Shoemaker, and Karen Johnston, who snapped the picture.

In Twenty-five Words — or Death

Bill Davis consoles Sandy Peterson who has fainted. Looking on are Ruth Ann Hippensteel, Carl Ramsby, Mary Hoopingarner, Alice Umble, and Nancy Anderson.

PROMPTER Connie Nicholson follows closely the lines being spoken on the stage.

Five oddly assorted contest winners go to a desolate island inn to be "terrified with regularity." This opens the scene for the 1960 Junior class play, Twenty-Five Words or Death by Newt Mitzman and William Dalzell is a mystery-comedy.

Pelican Point Lodge on Rock Island, owned by Olive Bunker Hill (Mary Hoopingarner) is the site for misadventure of the group led by Kelton Garwood (Rob Ulery), an intrepid ad man. The contest was to write an essay in twenty-five words or less on Foam-X soap. Out of 640,000 entrants the lucky winners were: Miss Pruce (Alice Umble), an Elkhart Junior High School English Teacher, Mrs. Van Pelt (Nancy Anderson), an indignant society matron, J. J. Hooth (Dan Ramsby), a successful hoop manufacturer, Halley Hampton (Ruth Ann Hippensteel), a career woman and ex-chorus girl, and Barbara Driscoll (Sandra Peterson), an Ohio co-ed, studying botany.

Unfortunately for everyone, the lodge was being used for jewel smuggling at the time the group arrived. Carl (Steve Miner), a small but cunning criminal, had opened up operations on the island and wasn't going to let them be ruined. With the help of Magda (Julia Cundiff), a ruthless cold-blooded murderess, and Nicholas (Bill Davis), a demented giant who was afraid of licorice, Carl was determined to drive the group away.

The result of the conflict ultimately leads to the perfect dead body, Severiad (Denny Yoder), who was killed by Nicholas, and the capturing of the wicked smugglers.

All this complexity boils down to a riotous and fully enjoyable play, masterfully directed by Mr. William Ney. With the cooperation of behind-the-scenes men, the play was a success.

A few Mid-Western professors and alumni are having a pre-game snack as they discuss the big homecoming weekend. Those in the scene are Polly Mitchel, Phil Saal, Dave Plank, Ted Thompson, Reed Dunnick, Judy Kehr, Tom Dalka, and Jane Hostetter.

"Tommy must stick to his principles to prove he is a good example of the male animal" is the theme of the senior class play which was presented March 24 and 25.

This three-act play by James Thurber and Elliot Nugent, and directed by Mr. William Ney proved to be a smashing hit.

It is the homecoming week-end on the Mid-Western University campus, where Tommy Turner is quietly settled as a composition teacher. His life becomes slightly upset as Joe Ferguson, the all time hero, comes to town and makes passes at Tommy's wife, Ellen. Tommy stands up for his belief that students should have freedom of ideas, and that they should be taught to think.

Tommy Turner proves to his wife that he is a male animal, and she sees him in a new light.

"It's whooping cough, not hooping cough, Phil; and watch that blocking!" were a few suggestions of Mr. Ney, who did another fine job of directing a senior class play

The royalty of our prom, Sue Murphy and Bob Rhoutsong, are being crowned by Sandra Neterer on the left and Ruth Neterer on the right.

Dan Cregier, Linda Paff, Linda Elliot, Norm McDougall, Ragene Schwartz, and Darrell Ott seem to be enjoying themselves in "Alaska."

During the evening many couples danced to the dreamy music.

With stars in her eyes, Judy Kehr dreams of approaching prom night. At last the big moment arrives. Her date, Tom Veach, presents her with a lovely corsage, and they are off for a gala evening. Dancing leaves its effect, and Tom and Judy take time out for refreshments to rest their weary feet.

This Is Our Prom

On May 20, 1960, the juniors feted the seniors of GHS in Alaska, the land of the midnight sun. Under mystic decorations, the upperclassmen danced to the magic music of the Notre Dame Lettermen. A floor show provided additional entertainment and at eleven o'clock, Bob Rhoutsong and Sue Murphy were crowned king and queen of the prom.

At twelve, the couples proceeded to the Goshen theater where they saw "Holiday for Lovers," starring Carol Linley, Jane Wyman, Clifton Webb, and Gary Crosby.

After the movie, the GHS upperclassmen were entertained by the Goshen Lions Club at the Moose. Music was provided by "The Serenaders" from Indianapolis. Breakfast, which was served by the Lions Club from four to five A.M., climaxed the memorable evening—one which will be treasured for a lifetime.

Helping to create a sky of enchantment are Sue Brewster, Sharon Yoder, and John Turner.

Trying to make the waterfall look realistic proved to be a problem.

Kicking high during their can-can routine are Cinda Schrock, Cammie Jensen, Loni Hursh, and Fritzie Ridenoure.

Penguin dancers taking a break are Sue Bolin, Marilyn Jensen, Pat Melfi, Betty Inebnit, and Marcia Marquardt.

One of the highlights at the Elks Club was the entertainment by the "Penguin Dancers."

Glimpses of GHS

Marlene Swinehart, Karen Johnston, and June Stealy are busy making plans for college. "College Night" helped students choose and plan for the college that would meet their needs.

Students learn that science can be interesting. Special programs like this help to give meaning to our classwork.

Gyrab has been more exciting since its complete renovation. A few active ?? boys are watching the latest in color television.

Roger Golden displays some typical action at Gyrab. The youth center offers many activities—ping pong, pool, chess, and dancing.

Sue Bolin and Connie Nicholson seem quite anxious about buying their tickets for Gyrab from Terry Scott.

Students in Action

Cinda Schrock is the center of attraction in this familiar scene. Our study halls are filled at noon with those stopping for a friendly chat.

When the final bell rings it is back to serious study.

So often we hear the complaint that there is nothing to do in Goshen. But active students realize there are plenty of activities to keep them occupied.

Here a group of non-participants see plenty of action. There is nothing like an exciting football game to bring these fans to their feet.

Leading cheers seems to have temporarily tired out active cheerleaders. This year's cheerleading squad consisted of Neal Kosnoff, Marlene Swinehart, Judy Rock, Christine Wolff, Sandy Cramer, and Tim Melfi.

Opponents Fall Before

Fighting Skins

This is a panoramic view taken from the uppermost corner of the new gym during a tense moment in the second half of the Elkhart game. A sell-out crowd of wildly yelling fans cheered the Skins on to a spectacular opening-night victory over rival Elkhart.

SUMMER PRACTICE: Two senior lettermen, Terry Clapacs and Terry Scott, practiced at Shanklin Park last August.

Coach Hank Clason had his best squad since 1953. Last fall's crew won eleven and lost four and were five and four in the Conference.

Two seniors, Terry Clapacs and Terry Scott, and sophomore Kent Ober supplied the needed scoring power. All three took turns winning races, with Terry Clapacs being number one man most often. Ober paced the Goshen runners five times, Clapacs six, and Scott one.

Of his first eight boys, Coach Clason loses Clapacs, Scott, Jim Blair, Theron Taylor, and Dan Cregier. However, he has Ober, Wesley Dye, and Bill Edson returning.

The Harriers placed ninth in a field of 22 teams at the conference meet held at LaPorte and placed seventh in a field of 25 teams in the sectional meet at South Bend. In both meets Terry Clapacs paced the Goshen runners.

After losing the opening game to Huntington, Goshen's Redskins raised fans' hopes by downing Knox. However, the Knox game was to be the last won by GHS although they tied the Penn Kingsmen after a hard fight. Although the Redskins fought well, they were defeated by more experienced squads. The last game of the year was our best showing. A better season is anticipated next season.

Championship tennis team

After finishing second for the last two seasons, the tennis team clinched their well-earned championship. The netters did not have an easy path to the title. Three times during the season Goshen escaped with 3 to 2 wins over South Bend Central, Elkhart, and Michigan City.

The two toughest matches were Elkhart and Michigan City. In the Elkhart match Roger Golden played his best tennis up to date to down Bill Holderman in three sets. This along with Allan Fisher's brilliant playing made the difference. In the Michigan City match three set victories by Fisher and Fred Hostetler along with a strong showing in the number one doubles by Howard Burkholder and Fisher were the deciding factors. After the netters had won the eastern half of the conference, they traveled to Hammond and clobbered the western division champs, 4 to 1.

Seniors Howard Burkholder and Allan Fisher, junior Roger Golden, and sophomore Fred Hostetler were the mainstays of the squad. Seniors J. Kile and Reed Dunnick also contributed to some of the victories. Next came lettermen junior Kirby Whitehead and sophomores Doug Smith and Ed Hartzler. Freshmen Phil Yoder and Gary Whitehead rounded out the championship squad.

It was the second conference title in twelve years for Coach Sovine. Mr. Sovine has been consistently turning out fine tennis teams. This year again proved why Goshen has the best overall conference record in the last decade.

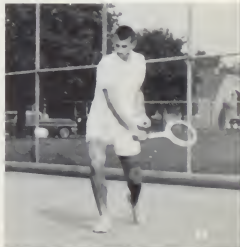

IN GRIM DETERMINATION—Allan Fisher anxiously awaits return shot from opponent.

Record-Breaking Skins

OUT OF MY WAY! Devon Miller drives around Elkhart's Steve Bell on his way to a basket. Devon started his first game of the season against the Blazers and sparked the team with 12 big points.

KEEP SCRATCHING, IT FEELS GOOD! Jim Gingerich seems to be in pain as he grabs for the ball, but instead, he latches on to a Penn Kingsman.

The Redskins finished regular play with their best record in nineteen years. They were the first team in nineteen years to chalk up six conference victories. Coach Cosgrove's team carried a 14-6 mark into the sectional tourney with a third-place finish in the ENIHSC to their credit also.

The team was spearheaded by Jay Miller who set a GHS and county season record of 579 points. Jay also won the conference scoring race with a 28-point game average and set a single game record of 40 points in a losing cause against LaPorte. Four-year veteran Howard Burkholder was very valuable both on offense and defense. He usually drew the toughest defensive assignment. Devon Miller, Jim Gingerich, and Fred Hostetler added needed balance with fine outside shooting. Under the boards, Dick Claybaugh teamed up with Jay Miller to provide a fine back-board combination.

The explosive Redskins started their season with a new-opening-game scoring record in a 77-42 rout of New Paris. After having their four-game winning streak broken by Garrett, the Skins bounced back to smash Adams in a convincing 72-48 victory. They continued to play fine ball and won their third holiday tourney in five years. The Redskins beat Lebanon 70-66, and then romped over the host school, Clinton Central, 80-57. Jay Miller and Howard Burkholder were named to the all-tourney five.

GRRRR! Dick Claybaugh's arm is being grabbed by an over anxious Blue Blazer. The snarling Blazer looks as if he is about to take a bite out of Dick's arm.

ANOTHER BASKET FOR FRED Fred Hostetler scores while being guarded by three Nappanee players. In the meantime, Jay Miller awaits a possible rebound.

FIGHTING SKINS Jay Miller battles for a rebound while Howard Burkholder watches anxiously.

Then came the night that will be long remembered in the hearts of Goshen fans. The Skins finally snapped the Blazers' 38-game winning streak by edging Elkhart 55-53 in one of the most thrilling high school basketball games played in Indiana this season. Jay Miller was high man with 26 points, but it was a team effort all the way. This was a fabulous opening for our new gym.

With perhaps the biggest victory under their belts, the Skins did not quit. They went on to set a school scoring record by scalping the Wildcats of Riley 89-71.

Seniors Jay Miller, Howard Burkholder, Devon Miller, and Dick Claybaugh will be lost through graduation. All were starters, but Goshen will have a nucleus for another fine squad with Jim Gingerich, Fred Hostetler, Randy Saal, and Charlie Cotton returning. Let's hope the Redskins will have continued success under Mr. Cosgrove who deserves a pat on the back from all loyal Goshen fans for the tremendous job he has done thus far.

Elkhart and Bremen win 1960 Relays

ALL THIS AND ONLY SECOND: Spattered from head to toe with mud, Rochester's Dan Daniels leaves the track after finishing second in the mile.

BEST IN STATE: Gary Froebel's Gardfrey skims over the sticks on his way to the Class A high-hurdle title.

THE BATTLE IS ON: The sprinters near the first turn of the Class A sprint relay.

DOWN AND OUT: This unidentified hurdler tripped and fell during the Class A high hurdles.

Team balance, an "oversight" readily admitted by opposing coaches, and an insignificant one-sixth of a point in the pole vault all contributed to Elkhart's second consecutive Class A Goshen Relay's title. Gary Roosevelt entered a boy in too many events and the mistake was detected. Roosevelt was forced to relinquish ten points leaving Elkhart the winner by one-sixth of a point.

In Class B, Bremen needed either a first or second in the sprint medley relay to edge Plymouth who had totaled 52 points. Bremen won the second heat for its second consecutive title.

The top individual performance was turned in by Elkhart's Charles Umbarger who established a Foreman Field record in the mile. His record of 4:24.6 minutes sliced nearly five seconds from the previous mark of 4:29.4 set by Warsaw's Max Truex in 1954.

Cindermen fade after fast start

REGIONAL QUALIFIERS: Shown left to right, are trackmen Terry Clapacs, Jay Miller, Ned Underwood, and Dan Cregier who qualified for the regional at Elkhart.

After losing their first dual meet, the thinlies pulled out a 56-53 victory with Dave Williams scoring 8 points in a thriller with St. Joseph. The highlight of the meet was when Terry Scott set a new Foreman Field record for a Goshen High School athlete in the half-mile.

In their third dual meet the Skins swept four events to down the Cadets from Howe 64-45. The thinlies dropped their last three dual meets completing the season with a 2-4 record.

In the Elkhart match Terry Scott bettered his record time in the 880, touring the two laps in 2:07.8 minutes.

In the Eastern Conference track meet at Elkhart, Goshen finished seventh. Those who qualified for the conference meet were Jim Marks in the broad jump; Bud Smith in the pole vault; Jay Miller in the high jump; and Dave Williams in two events, the high jump and the pole vault.

In the sectional track meet Goshen finished fourth. Those who qualified for the regional were Terry Clapacs in the half-mile; Jay Miller and Ned Underwood in the high-jump; and Dan Cregier in the low hurdles.

NOT THIS TIME: Dave Williams, who broke two poles while vaulting last spring, had better luck this time.

TRACK TIME AGAIN: Coach Hank Clason greets returning trackmen Jim Bowser, Dan Cregier, Ned Underwood, and Bob Goss.

GHS Baseball Team completes first Cosgrove-Coached season

Completing the first Cosgrove-coached year with a season record of 1-7, Goshen's baseball team had only ENIHSC games.

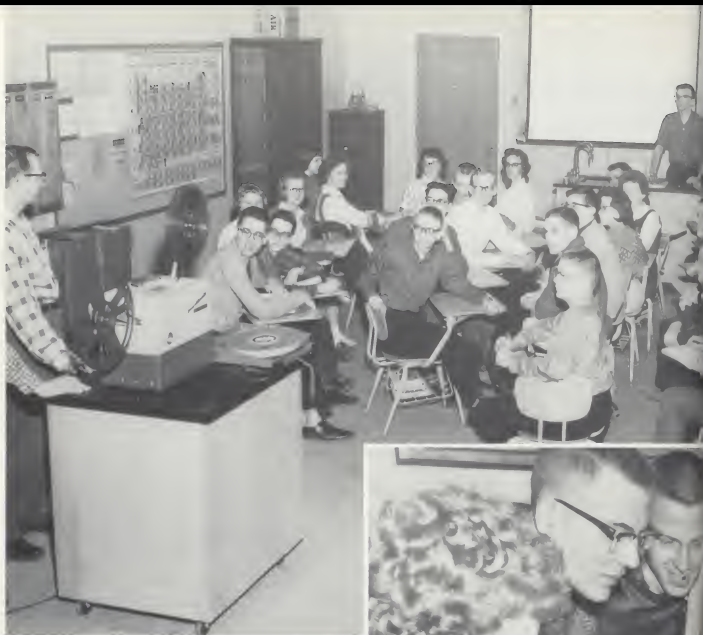

The pitching staff, losing all its major 1959 pitchers was expected to be Goshen's weakest point. In truth, it was the team's strongest point, despite seven defeats and only one win.

Dave Guipe, leader of the field of batters at GHS, had an excellent batting average of .461. He was followed by Bill Johnson with .352. The team average, however, was a weak .239.

Although 11 players were lost by graduation, a good season is expected in 1961.

Members and Activities

The Three Fates of Roman Mythology guided the G.H.S. Latin Club through the year 1960 to 1961.

Clotho put the thread of life on the spindle or started the year with two plays written and performed by Latin Club members. Lachesis spun the thread during the year with such activities as the Latin Club Initiation, the Christmas party, and the Latin Club Candy Sale. Students also participated in State and National Latin Contests and helped in the State and National Federation of Latin Clubs. During the year Latin Club members learned such qualities as good citizenship, self-reliance, co-operation and leadership, besides learning the ways of Roman life. Atropos cut the thread of this year's club events at the annual Roman Banquet which was held in the spring.

Editor's Page

Editor Marilyn Garman plans and draws a page for the 1960-61 Crimson.

Paula Hartzog, one of the Senior Editors, spent many hours after school typing copy on the final pages.

Marilyn Garman confers with Mrs. Dwyer, Crimson Advisor, about the dummy of the yearbook.

Dear Friends,

On behalf of the 1960-61 Crimson staff, I would like to acknowledge everyone who contributed their time and effort to help make the publication of this book possible.

To Mrs. Berniece Dwyer, our sponsor, we extend our appreciation and thanks. She prodded us on when we felt like calling it quits.

We express our gratefulness to the advertisers whose patronage made possible the publication of the book.

Recognition goes to all those who contributed their photographic ability — Mr. Gordon Moore who took our senior, classroom, and club pictures; the high school photographer, Dean Neterer, who spent countless hours taking and developing pictures we needed; Melvin Troyer, Goshen News Photographer, whose outstanding sport shots were used in our book; Julie Cundiff who took all the faculty pictures.

To our publisher, Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, Texas, and their representative, Mr. James Smock, we express our sincere gratitude for their excellent production of our yearbook.

I would like to thank my staff for their untiring effort in putting the book together. We have attempted to show you that GHS has grown in size and stature.

Even though the publishing of a yearbook seems like a never-ending job, it has its rewards and compensations. The experience one gains from it is invaluable and the fun we had while working on it will never be forgotten.

Sincerely,

Marilyn

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's health and care. The strategy is based on the following principles: older people should be able to live independently, safely and comfortably; older people should be able to participate in the community; and older people should be able to access the services they need.
